SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1872.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Gold closed yesterday at 94. -Cotton closed steady in New York; uplands 22f cents; sales 2269 bales. __in Liverpool cotton closed quiet; uplands 11id, Orleans 11id; sales 15,000 bales. The Rev. Dr. Peabody, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, preached the annual sermon before the State Legislature at its recent assembling from the text, "Thou shalt not —The other evening a gentleman accidental-ly gave a bootblack a five-dollar piece, mistaking it in the dusk for a cent. The boy disgovered the error at once, and what did the noble little fellow do? Quietly put it in his pocket and say nothing? No, spurred by a better impulse, he called all his comrades and generous'y spent every penny of it in peanuts and lemon beer.

-A singular scene in the New York Stock Exchange is thus noticed in the Tribuse: "So marked was the absence of orders in the Stock Exchange Saturday that the members of the board spent much of their time in athletic and other amusements, such as running, jumping, aliding upon the floor, singing sna!ches of songs, &c. Only occasionally was this sort of sport interrupted by an order to buy or sell something. These dull days are all well enough, if we don't have too many of them." -A politico-sentimental complication in European "high life", is suggested in the gossipy announcement that one of the Russian Grand Dukes, son of the Czar, has rashly fallen in love with the daughter of the Prussian Generai Von Alvensleben, who recently visited St. Petersburg with her father. The lady is said to be both charming and accomplished-a circumstance which, if marriage be proposed by the Grand Duke and objected to by the Emperor, would only make the matter worse for the love-lorn imperial suitor.

-Heretofore dogs have been credited with being in all cases the original propagators of hydrophobia, and thousands of innocent canines have been on this account doomed to death. But now there is said to be a victim of that terrible malady in Chicago who was never bitten by a dog. He is a German, twenty-eight years of age, named Reiter, and goes into spasms and convulsions at the sight or thought of water. His paroxysms are described as dreadful, and the doctors can do nothing for -An experienced grocer in Kalamazoo, who has watched the manœuvres and strategy of declares that he has seen a rat go to a basket of rats, seize the first one by the tall, and drag him up stairs on his back, egg and all.

-According to Dr. Toner, the eminent statistician, who has prepared a diagram in regard to the relative longevity of the sexes, and a curious table, showing the number of children men. Of Minott and Artson, we know little, ages of fifteen and fifty, there are but half as ber of the Legislature from Charleston many children born to the number of women | County, is one of the most insolent and igmentioned now as there were in the year 1800. Dr. Toner's table further shows that there has been a regular decrease of births every decade According to his theory, the depopulation of the world is but a matter of time-say of a few

It in New York, on the leading avenue of business, Broadway, two hundred thousand dollars be paid for a city lot twenty five feet by one hundred for the fee simple, the price is thought high. Sixteen times the area mentioned will be about stanced will be put three million two hundred thousand dollars-less than half the value of Elections, when they will be re-elected. • the Mansion House plot.

-A manifesto has been Issued by the Count de Chambord to the French people. The Count claims, as of yore, the "right divine," and says: "I shall never abdicate my claim to the throne of France. I shall never forsake the monarchical principle which I have preserved intact and hurtful in detail. It is false in principle; France's greatness and liberties. Cæsarism and anarchy threaten France because her salvation is sought in personal questions and not Charleston County, who know nothing of in principles. I shall ever uphold the flag of France and aid in restering the ancient prestige of her armies. Time passes, and alliances and reorganization are urgent. The happlness of France is my only ambition; and I will never consent to become a revolutionist where I am a legitimate King."

odor of his cell permeates the entire Tombs. He orders in perfumes by the box, and every time the soup and hash for the common criminals is toted past his door he breaks a bottle to have made so dangerous a declaration as of musk. In a crimson-faced dressing gown, embroidered s ippers and slik socks he smokes the time away, altogether the gayest bit of a criminal that ever lodged in Murderers' row. I don't think the man extraordinarily intelligent. How that unfortunate wife of his must feel at Sandy Hook, on her return home When the pilot goes aboard all the late paper are eagerly sought, and, among strangers, her heart probably filled with dar!: uncertainties that poor weman will first learn that the father of her child is in the cell of a murderer.

-A New York correspondent, under date of the 27th instant writes: "The coopers' strike is beginning to sectously embarrass those branches of business which it immediately effects, and, in order to consider the situation, a meeting of merchants and others was held this afternoon, at the Produce Exchange, fluence of the Internationals, and would neither work themselves nor permit others to work. They have threatened to stop are not acceded to,' but, he added, it 'remains to be seen whether they will succeed or not. tions in favor of memorializing the Legislature for an immediate re-enactment of the conspiracy law, the repeal of the eight-hour law, and the odious law relating to apprentices; also, that the Chamber of Commerce and the Builders' Association be requested to unite in the movement. These resolutions were adopted, and a committee was appointed to wait on the bodies above named. Mr. Hiscox, General Bead and others made addresses advocating the employment of negroes and Chinese If nothing better could be done. Much importance is attached to this meeting, as the first formal combination of capitalists and employers against the Trade Unions. If the Chamber of Commerce and the Builders' Exchange act in harmony with it, interesting results may be anticipated. The committee is expected to report in the course of the ensuing week."

The Metropolitan Police Bill.

This iniquitous bill, in its different forms has as many lives as a cat. It is put carefully out of the way, and is thought to be buried where the legislative resurrectionists cannot enter in and steal, when lo! it leaps to the front again, only the more hideous for its temporary disappearance. The last state of this bill is worse than its first.

As now introduced by Mr. Bowes, the bill appoints three Police Commissioners for the City and County of Charleston, who shall organize a police and detective force, at a cost of seventy-one thousand dollars, the powers of which police shall extend over all parts of the State. The unanswerable objection to this bill, as to all bills of the kind, is that it takes from the persons most interested-the people of the City of Charleston -the regulation of the Municipal Police, and places them, and their lives and property, at the mercy of any board of commissiohers whom the Legislature may appoint, or the black majority outside of the city may choose to elect. As we have repeatedly shown, the present manner of appointing and governing the City Police is satisfactory to all the citizens, save two or three disreputable office-seekers. The City Council is composed of whites and blacks; so is the police force. The City Council is partly Conservative and partly Republican; so is the police force. No single complaint has been made against Council or against the force. No charge of partiality or injustice is brought against either officers or men. Not one word is said against the present system, and yet it is proposed to rob the citizens of Charleston of one of their most valued rights-that of regulating, through their representatives in the Council, the force of police which is responsible for the maintenance of good order in the city.

Under the proposed law, the cost of the police force would be nearly doubled. The burden of debt and taxation is already hard to bear, and it is determined to make it still more oppressive. We must pay seventyfive thousand dollars for police, in order that the friends of this and that aspiring politician may be in a position to put in the right man when the day of election comes. Besides this, the Bowen bill leaves the citizens of Charleston no more control over the election of the commissioners, who are to rule the Metropolitan Police, than it gives rais for many seasons, solves the problem of to the people of Ashantee The immense how rats carry eggs up a pair of stairs. He negro majority outside of the city will always swamp the Conservative vote within eggs, take one in his paws, roll over on his the city limits. In plain English, the negroes back, resting the egg on his abdomen, holding on the islands and in the parishes are to It there by his legs, flap his tall as a signal that | elect the Police Commissioners for the City all was ready, and out would come two other and County of Charleston. What manner of men they will elect the bill itself indicates Artson, Aaron Logan and Minott are to be the commissioners until the General Elections in October. The three are colored born to each thousand women between the good or bad. But Logan, who is a memnorant negroes in the State. His judicial pranks in Christ Church Parish cannot be forgotten. Under cover of his authority as a trial justice, he dragged respectable citizens from their homes on frivolous charges, and paraded them over the country under Mansion House, the public residence of the the guard of negro constables. It was he ford mayor, is said to have been recently let who attempted to send a planter to jail for at a ground-rent almost equal to one pound not removing his hat with sufficient speed when he crossed the threshold of the shanty which served Logan as an office. This black Dogberry was the plague and pest of the neighborhood. And, upon two occasions, he was only saved from trial and conviction by his influence in the county, which influence the State authorities were not willing to see exerted in opposition an acre, and sixteen times the purchase in- to their plans. These three men are to have control of the police until the General They can so distribute their favors during the six months preceding the election as to make their own nomination and re-election absolutely certain. We say, then, that the new Police Bill is a monstrous wrong-false in principle, for forty years, and which is the last hope of because, without provocation, it gives the regulation of the affairs of Charleston City to the custody of the colored voters of our condition and care nothing for our wellbeing. It is hurtful in detail; because it increases the cost of the police, because it enables the police to be used as an electioneering committee all over the State, and because it gives the direction of the police -A New York paper says: "Stokes rests to three men who represent neither the his curled head on lace-bordered pillows. The property nor the intelligence, nor the good faith of the County or the City of Charleston.

The Bear and the Lion.

The vast but quiet movements of Russi down through Central Asia have at length, it s reported, caused the British Government to bestir itself for the protection of its interests in that section. The stealthy manner in which Russia has extended its possessions has prevented much notice outside of those peoples most directly interested. In one campaign the past summer, a territory equal in extent to Great Britain itself was added to the the Czar's Empire, with millions of inhabltants, and an immense amount of productive soil. This is only one of the many extensions that Russia has been making, absorbing here a Khanate and there a tribe; and as Central Asia is quite out of the range of usual information and communication, and the people are thoroughly accustomed to occasional subjugations and changes of alleglance, the progress of the Colossus of the North has caused little notice. The report that the greater portion of the Anglo-Indian army is moving to the North, and that the British Government is making up dispatches on the subject, indicates that at length the jealous fears of that nation are aroused as the Bear creeps down toward the quarry already under the Lion's paw.
